

Vicki Zerbee, Predator Automated Marketing Representative, Announces Advertising Campaign.

Zerbee, 47 Woodland Terrace, Duncansville, PA, announces innovative advertising programs. "Beginning in two weeks," Zerbee stated, "the Predator System is launching a television advertising campaign."

Oct. 2, 2006 - PRLog -- Folks who are online and want to work from home are especially going to be interested in this news.

To date, almost 400 television spots have been secured and will be shown during October. Predator will be presented to people who would like to work at home and develop multiple streams of residual income. It is a global opportunity right from the comfort of home. The 24/7 operation of the system supports the ability to do business in different time zones all over the world.

Zerbee emphasizes that what will draw many people to this program is the fact that especially new entrepreneurs will not stay away due to fear of selling. There is no selling by the system owner. The most important thing a Predator distributor can do is to help drive traffic to their web site. Even that is supported by training, written daily tasks and the fact that the program generates automated leads. Once on a Predator website, a prospect requests a call back. Zerbee affirms, "At that time, a Professional Closer will call the person and present the Predator system in a non-threatening, business way. If the interest and desire is there, the closer will make the sale. This business can be for anybody wanting to work from home."

The Predator system was developed by professional, experienced, successful entrepreneurs who have put together a team of instructors to support the field team with basic and advanced web marketing techniques. There are trainings scheduled in the online conference center throughout the day, 7 days per week, with no additional fees charged for the valuable instruction there.

Those people who have reviewed online programs may find the Predator Automated system to be superior in different areas. Competitive programs have higher program fees, instruct members to use other services charging additional fees, plus have far less training and support.
