

Stealth Chat Monitor - new monitoring solution released by Amplusnet

By Amplusnet

Dated: Jan 19, 2007

As an answer to the market request, Amplusnet has launched a new monitoring solution, Stealth Chat Monitor, designed to provide you a clear image of all the chat conversation that took place on a computer.

Stealth Chat Monitor captures both sides of chat conversation from popular instant messaging services, like Yahoo, MSN, ICQ, IRC, Skype or Google Talk. The recorded information is saved chronologically in a detailed report that can be viewed in web format or sent to a specified email address.

This user-friendly application is not visible in Program Files and in Task Manager, feature that empowers you to act like an undercover agent. Also, the settings and the recordings are protected both with a password and a hot-key combination.
