Dated: Apr 10, 2007

The tandem of Don Conrad and Jeffrey Sloe have made an official announcement today stating, they are ready to devote their time to helping others start a home based business.

CLEVELAND, OH (April 10, 2007) The duo of Don Conrad and Jeffrey Sloe, two Internet marketing enthusiasts and SEO apprentices, have made it official; they are devoting their time and energy to helping people that would like to start a home based business. In an announcement earlier in the week, Sloe and Conrad announced that they were teaming up, but nothing was official. As of 3:00pm EST today, the duo has made it official.

“Helping others has been a passion of mine for a long time”, announced Sloe, “and I know the feeling is the same for my partner, Don Conrad. We both have this passion to come home and help as many people as possible do the same. There is a need for individuals like us to help the less fortunate, the people who struggle financially, but would love to raise their own children.”

Sloe and Conrad have been working together, as master distributors for VereConference, for a couple of months and never met in person, but they feel this closeness that many Christian brothers share. Conrad said he feels like “we are one, and we will continue to put God first and leave this new business venture in His hands.”

Stated Conrad, “If someone is interested in starting a home based business, we will help that person to not only start a home based business, but also help them run their business. Both of these tasks will be fulfilled, but the first and highest priority to helping that person is to make sure they know that God is in control.”

Sloe has been marketing on the Internet since 2000. Although he has had not pursued the Internet marketing career with the passion he now possesses, he feels the partnership is a “fabulous thing.” Sloe also said that he has not lost his vision and dream of one day working from the comforts of his home. More information is available on Sloe’s personal blog; the web site address is listed below.

Conrad has been marketing on the Internet since 2003. He is currently promoting the Predator Marketing system and is a certified trainer for Veretekk. Veretekk is a premium lead generating system; it is available to any business, but is popular for individuals that work from home. There is more information about Don Conrad on his web site, which is listed below.
