

iPhone and Green Cleaner Kit: Breakthrough Products that Each Combine Three Amazing Reasons to Buy iPhone is a mobile phone, widescreen iPod, and internet device all in one. Green Cleaner Kit is an amazingly safe, economical, and time-saving household cleaning kit in a box.

May 9, 2007 - PRLog -- Duncansville, PA, May 9, 2007-- Breakthrough products are thrilling. Excitement is building for the new iPhone which is a unique new mobile phone with features that will impress even the most technology savvy individual. Equally impressive is the performance of the tiny instrument as a widescreen iPod complete with touch controls. Another bonus of the iPhone is the breakthrough property of an internet communication device with desk-top class email.

Green Cleaner Kit, located at <http://EarthDayCleanEveryday.com>, has collected some recognition and passion of its own. In a time where more people are searching for safer, healthier products to bring in to their homes, this unique and very effective, complete house cleaning product found its way to the Oprah Show where it was highly recommended by Oprah herself. Green Cleaner Kit is the answer to any household cleaning job, kitchen mess, and laundry challenge; and it saves people time and money while making their home healthier.

People are very busy. They need effective, time-saving tools to manage their lives. The functionality attributes of the iPhone are drawing droves of people to it. Having the tools you need in one small device that operates with ease is highly desirable for active lifestyles. Likewise, the Green Cleaner Kit touts the resourcefulness of the individual products to accomplish sparkling clean results in a safe and very-easy-to-use product line. Spring cleaning has a new partner in town that raises this annual (usually dreaded) task to a completely new desirable level, with products that require less time to clean better.

Just as iPhone offers the solution to the equipment needs of its customers by providing the individual features people require for communication and even enjoyment, the Green Cleaner Kit provides the unique tools one needs to safely, effectively, and quickly make their home clean and healthy. Not to be ignored is the enjoyment factor of both products. It would be hard to argue that a brand new gadget is not fun to use, and the iPhone will not disappoint. The Green Cleaner Kit has generated some exciting moments if its own, with enthusiastic folks spreading the word of amazing results, creative testimonies and houses that shine.

iPhones may answer some of the issues people currently have with alternate choices. Poor browsing, small screens, lack of touch screens, and unfriendly interfaces are current options that folks struggle with as they use other devices. Similarly, Green Cleaner Kits address the undesired results that come along with harmful chemicals and toxins in other brands of household cleaning products. Allergies, asthma, other respiratory illnesses, reproductive disorders, and serious diseases including cancer, have been linked to these harmful chemicals and toxins. These health concerns are not associated with Green Cleaner Kit products because they are safe, natural, environmentally friendly and tested to perform as well or better than popular major brands.

Breakthrough products answer needs. iPhones most definitely will be a staple in many pockets and handbags, at least until the next new widget is introduced. Green Cleaner Kit has breakthrough solution-oriented power, plus a 50 year old company behind the product for integrity, efficacy, safety and quality confirmation. To learn more about iPhones you can simply google the name. To learn more about the Green Cleaner Kit, one must look a bit more exclusively.
