New York based medical tourism service provider New Medical Horizons Inc. is about to set of a revolution in medical tourism by offering insured medical tourism packages

New York, NY – Manhattan based medical tourism service provider New Medical Horizons Inc. (<http://www.newmedicalhorizons.com/>) is about to set of a revolution in medical tourism by offering insured medical tourism packages. In order to cater to the rising global demand for cost-effective and efficient medical treatment overseas, New Medical Horizons Inc. is already an established presence in providing and facilitating medical treatment in countries like India for visitors from all parts of the world.

Statement from CEO Rob Zachariah, “Insured medical treatment abroad is undoubtedly the next big thing in the medical tourism industry. With employers actively planning for self-insurance and overseas treatment for their employees, and healthcare giants like Bluecross BlueShield of South Carolina coming out with packages specifically designed to cover medical treatment overseas, it’s only a matter of time before insurance for medical tourism becomes the norm, rather than an exception.

We’d like to be ahead of the pack, and we’re actively looking at ways and means to cover the medical trips undertaken by our tourists. We’ll be making a major announcement in the coming months regarding this matter.”
