With office rental in central business district rising fast, Singapore Company Incorporation and Business Migration Specialists moves its back end office support staffs to its newly acquired "Rikvin Building"

Rikvin Consultancy is to shift its back office operations to a more spacious building, what makes the news special is that the new location will be their own premises 'Rikvin Building' located just 3 minutes walk from its present location at Equity Plaza, Cecil street where the Head quarters will continue its operations until June 2009.

Rikvin consultancy started in 1995 is an incorporation specialist specializing in company incorporation, registration and administration processing for all business types and sizes in Singapore and throughout the world. Rikvin facilitates foreign entrepreneurs' immigration into Singapore by assisting in obtaining Entrepass for themselves and their families and employment pass for their employees. Rikvin also provides a full range of accounting services for companies who require a complete and properly constructed set of financial statements for their business purposes. As the reputation of Singapore grows as the hub of Asia for almost all industries with easy access to the burgeoning economies in the region, Rikvin's client base has been growing. Rikvin is servicing clients from all parts of the world, and boasts of a highly satisfied client list from various industries. Rikvin has achieved 98% success rate in Entrepass application processing, on behalf of its clients.

The recent accomplishment of Rikvin is the 'Rikvin building' located at 120 Telok Ayer Street in the CBD area. Speaking on this achievement Ms. Ragini Dhanvantray, CEO of Rikvin says "We always put our clients before everything. This recent expansion of our service capacity and facility is to support the growing business volume as well as to ensure that our service quality remains always at top caliber and our employees have a comfortable work environment to render their best. Pleasing the clients and delivering more than what we promise is a tradition at Rikvin and as we grow we take our tradition with us."

Reflecting on the future prospects of her industry Ms. Ragini says "The optimism keeps mounting, as the regional economies are expected to perform well and as Asia's pie in the world market grows steadily. Singapore's attractiveness as the regional base remains unchallenged, so we see a lot of new businesses coming up and existing foreign companies setting up operations here. Outsourcing the incorporation, accounting services and associated services, while establishing their operation is almost a standard practice followed by most of the home grown and foreign companies and as a one stop solution provider Rikvin is confident that we will remain a preferred partner for our existing clients as well as prospective clients".

A review at the prevailing scenario substantiates Ms. Ragini's optimism. Asia houses three of the top four economies in the world, measured by purchasing power parity – the People's Republic of China, Japan and India. As Asia grows its share of the global economy, the movement of international companies, foreign SME enterprises, and a new breed of entrepreneurs is rising. Over the years, the Singapore has pulled out all the stops to become a hot spot for global businesses and investment. And the efforts have paid off handsomely. Singapore is often the first port of call for investors - big and small, and from diverse sectors such as manufacturing, information technology (IT) and education - looking to create, produce, manage and distribute products to the rest of Asia as well as the world market.

Singapore is ranked 1st for the ease of doing business in Asia (World Bank report: "Doing Business 2007: How to Reform") and 1st for being the least bureaucratic place for doing business in Asia (Political and Economic Risk Consultancy, June 2006). These are remarkable testimonial to Singapore's reputation as the ideal location for any business.
