Recover data from damaged and corrupted Microsoft Word and Rich Text files

Recovery Toolbox, Inc. released new software tool for recovering deleted files: Recovery Toolbox for Word.

Recovery Toolbox for Word is used to effectively recover information from corrupted Microsoft Word documents and templates. It allows users to avoid losing data important for them. Indeed, Microsoft Word is nowadays the most popular tool for creating any documents, including corporate ones. Recovery Toolbox for Word works like this. First, the program scans and analyzes the source file. During this process, it extracts any information that can be extracted from it. In case the document is seriously damaged, part of the data may be permanently lost. All recovered information is displayed on the screen for the user to be able to check it. The user can make sure that the information is up-to-date and export data to Microsoft Word or save it to a plain text file with literally two mouse clicks. It makes this information available for any type of processing. It is also quite important that the source file is not modified. The program only reads information from it.
