

Moyea Software Announced DVD to 3GP Converter V1.4

By Moyea Software

Dated: Sep 18, 2007

Moyea DVD to 3GP Converter can easy rip DVD to 3GP, 3G2 for cell phone.

With Moyea DVD to 3GP Converter, the DVD videos can be played on your cell phone, such as Nokia, Samsung, LG, Sony Ericsson, Sanyo, Toshiba, Motorola, etc. with the settings you prefer. You can change the brightness, contrast, content, duration, bit rate of the video and the volume, sample rate, and bit rate of the audio. The updated version has been improved with the features as follows:

1. Added the option "Deinterlace" to deinterlace all the videos under conversion, if the option is selected.
2. Modified the bug that the index No. would be mistaken if the program failed in opening PGC.
3. Added the function to deal with IFO files, which contain redundant chapters with abnormal contents.

The option to deinterlace DVD videos is particularly convenient for users who get interlaced videos and find the output quality of the videos does not works as expected. Deinterlacing the DVD videos will work out as the right option to get the interlaced DVD video to the compatible files for cell phone with clear images. The difference of the source interlaced video and the deinterlaced video can only be compared after conversion with the output file.

Mistaken index number of the DVD would occur when the program failed in opening the program chain (PGC). Generally, there is no problem with the PGC, which is included in the IFO file. Even though the possibility is rare, the program has been modified to fix the bug for better conversion.

The program had been enhanced with the function to filter the information on IFO files. Only the right contents with valid information will be loaded for playing. The useless or corrupted chapters will not display on the program, which in some point may avoid error when you tries to edit the corrupted video.

Pricing and Availability

Moyea DVD to 3GP Converter is compatible with Windows NT 4.X, Windows 2000, Windows XP, and Windows Vista. At a price of $29, you can get the full version of the program without any limitation. Registered customers are entitled to free minor updates and technical support.
