

Electronic Medical Records Software Provider Offers EMR Software For All Health Care Professions

By Foxmeadows.com

Dated: Oct 18, 2007

EMR Software provider, Fox Meadows offers electronic medical records software to all health care professionals.

Medical software is all over the market. No matter what type of software a health care office needs, they can spend as little or as much as they want. But, some companies can provide the best quality medical software, for any health care profession, without the hassles and price issues that other medical software companies have. Fox Meadows Software provides today's medical professionals with the highest quality software to run their health care practice, without the problems and price that other software companies have.

Fox Meadows Software offers medical professionals an affordable software solution for the four major areas of the automated medical office: electronic medical records, image/document management, practice management, and telephony. It does not matter what type of software or program a medical office needs to implement, Fox Meadows can help make the transition a smooth and comfortable one. All of the professional staff at Fox Meadows knows what it takes to help today's medical professionals run their offices smoothly with the most up-to-date technology available.

Fox Meadows Software has been providing high quality, affordable medical software for over thirteen years and is based in South Carolina. Over their many years in business, the software designers have taken input from physicians, office managers, billing consultants, and many other medical professionals to help make their practice management software systems the best around. They have evolved their software packages into a very feature-rich system that provides a superior functionality and can support any medical specialty. With these medical professionals input, Fox Meadows was able to create a suite of products that offer electronic medical records, document management, and even telephony software.

Fox Meadows Software continues to build their presence in the national market as a highly regarded vendor of medical software by providing the highest quality customer service and building a strong customer loyalty. Fox Meadows offers some of the most cost effective software packages on the market, yet is still able to offer the most advanced products and services to their customers. By providing great products, a great price, and the highest rated support and customer service, Fox Meadows continues to grow and offer their customers the best medical software possible.

To learn more about Fox Meadows Software, please visit their web site at <http://www.foxmeadows.com> or call them at 1-877-369-3282.

Category	Health, Technology, Software
Tags	electronic medical records, emr software, medical billing
Email	Click to email author
Website	http://www.foxmeadows.com
Phone	813-600-3017
Fax	813-354-3642
Address	9280 Bay Plaza Blvd Suite 706
Zip

33619