Dated: Nov 07, 2007

SeminarInformation.com, the largest database of seminars on the Internet, has just updated it's listings with thousands of dates and locations for seminars and training programs.

New dates and locations for thousands of seminars from SkillPath, National Seminars, Padgett Thompson, Compumaster, Fred Pryor, CareerTrack, the American Management Association, Kepner-tregoe, NBI, American Trainco, Burke, Bob Pike Seminars, Interaction Associates, McLuhan Davis, Voice Pro, Learning Tree, Global Knowledge, MRA - the Management Association, Society of Automotive Engineers, Federal Publications, Linkage, NCCE, MIS, IIL and Environmental Resource Center, to name just a few have been added to the SeminarInformation.com website of training seminars.

"Since 1981 we have been providing the most comprehensive, user-friendly source for finding the right seminar" says Catherine Bellizzi, President and co-founder of Seminar Information Service, Inc. (SIS). "We keep adding new seminar companies each year as our database continues to grow - we have over 360,000 seminars given by over 600 seminar sponsors, so we know we can help our users find a seminar that will meet their needs".

SeminarInformation.com is a free site where users can find seminars by date, location, title, topic or seminar sponsor and then read complete outlines to help them compare and contrast offerings. When they've found just the right seminar they can enroll online, call in or fax their registration.

SeminarInformation.com has just instituted a Personalized Recommendation service that allows users of the website to fill out a simple form with their requirements and one of the experts at SIS will help them find the seminar that will fill their need.

The onsite portion of the database enables viewers to narrow down those seminars that can be presented onsite at a company's location or at any location of their choice. "Our knowledgeable customer service reps can assist users by making recommendations as well as serving as liason between users and seminar companies," adds Bellizzi. "As the recognized experts in the industry we know what's out there and usually can save our customers lots of time by directing them to the right sponsor with the right seminar."
