While US States hoard billions in unclaimed cash owed to its people, Cash Unclaimed has reunited countless Americans with their share of the nations $35 BILLION in unclaimed property.

Santa Ana, CA – While US States hoard billions in unclaimed cash owed to its people, Cash Unclaimed has reunited countless Americans with their share of the nations $35 BILLION in unclaimed property.

On June 1, 2007 a federal judge ordered the state of California to halt the seizure of unclaimed property including cash, stocks, safe deposit box contents and other property. CA may be the first of many states to be exposed for their inadequate notification to unclaimed money owners.

<http://www.Cashunclaimed.com> identified a need for a massive outreach to people nationwide due to the extremely limited, archaic advertising efforts of state and federal agencies controlling unclaimed cash. The states acquire BILLIONS in unclaimed money annually and do very little to reach the rightful owners, and instead of returning the money to the account owners it is spent through the states general funds.

Many states only post a generic newspaper ad to notifying unclaimed account owners, <http://www.CashUnclaimed.com>'s advertising and outreach to Americans has been successful and has reunited innumerable unclaimed property owners with their money.

Cashunclaimed.com Founder, Bill McIntosh stated, "Our mission is to reunite Americans with their unclaimed money." Cash Unclaimed spends hundreds of thousands of dollars annually in an effort to reach Americans, educate the public on the topic of unclaimed money and make them aware of the high likelihood they are owed unclaimed money.

Bill McIntosh added, "We are an information service that provides you access to our huge database allowing visitors to search by name and see if they are owed unclaimed cash. We also provide you tips and information on how to claim your money."

<http://www.Cashunclaimed.com> has also developed Name Match? technology. When someone searches for unclaimed money using their name, Name Match? will also identify accounts with a variation of that legal name. For example William Smith may have an account listed under W. Smith or Bill Smith. Cash Unclaimed will find this account where other sites may not.

Although the states each offer a website, state specific website searches will only search for money turned over to that state and will not search the other 49 states or any federal databases.

This leaves too many opportunities for accounts to go overlooked when a person is searching for them. Therefore, Cashunclaimed.com has created an unparalleled database of millions of people owed money in all 50 states.

With the total of unclaimed cash growing BILLIONS annually, CashUnclaimed is working hard to assist Americans in claiming the money that is rightfully theirs.

Cashunclaimed.com has compiled one of the largest databases for unclaimed money in the world, containing over 200 million records of people who are owed unclaimed money on their website www.cashunclaimed.com.

Their advertising and outreach efforts have reunited countless people with their unclaimed money and property.
