The Natural Skin Empire goes national this week with their fine line of body butters which are created and scented with the actual essential oils of the plants and seeds they are named for. Take for example the scrumptious Coffee Lovers Coffee Butter! One twist of the lid and you might grab your favorite coffee mug rather than remember your skin is about to get the best treat it's ever had! What makes this body butter different than ANYTHING else on the market? Five specific points 1) essential oils for scents 2) healing qualities of tamanu oil 3) Made in the USA in a high quality facility 4) won't feel like water when applied or like thick heavy cream. Rather it sinks nicely into the skin. 5) feel confident about what is sinking into your skin. Ever wonder if something synthetic could harm your skin? You can feel sure what you are putting on your skin is good for your body. Products will be sold through higher end gift shops and luxury stores. For details call Kirsten at 208-350-0208.

The Natural Skin Empire creates fantastic products made with essential oils and other fine ingredients. The owner and formulator took personal desire for fantastic products she couldnt find on the shelves or internet, and began making them for herself. She then found herself sharing the batches with friends and family and receiving orders. Its grown from there. Additionally, she creates the best tattoo aftercare product on the market (the nurse in her comes out) healing is essential to her
