SeminarInformation.com has just updated the largest database of seminars and conferences on the Internet. Dates and locations for Fred Pryor and National seminars updated through May of 2008.

"With travel getting more complicated and costly as the year begins we've tried to make it easier for professionals to get the training they need as close to home as possible," states Mona Piontkowski, EVP of SeminarInformation.com. "We've just updated our database of seminars and conferences with the latest dates and locations for seminars presented by Fred Pryor Seminars, CareerTrack seminars, National Seminars and Padgett Thompson to name just a few. These seminar companies present their courses in smaller cities all around the country making travel to the larger cities not necessary. " adds Piontkowski, "Lots of times individuals can just drive to a local hotel and get the training they need. Sure beats the hassle of going through airport lines."

The SeminarInformation.com database lists seminars and conferences for over 600 seminar sponsors including the American Management Association, Skillpath Seminars, Linkage Inc, Learning Tree International, Cornell University, Cross Country Education, Global Knowledge, MIS, Lorman and The Council on Education.
