Online Real Estate Brokerage Launches LandBin.com with 55,000 Active Land Listings

Minneapolis, MN - RealtyScape LLC, operator of LakePlace.com, today announced the launch of LandBin.com (<http://www.landbin.com>). Out of the gate, Land Bin features one of the Internet's largest selections of land for sale (55,000 active listings), giving serious land buyers and investors a complete market overview. The website allows visitors to browse virtually every available Minnesota land & Wisconsin land listing by state, region, county, city, and MLS number. (See: <http://www.landbin.com/sitemap>)

The LandBin.com homepage includes a dynamic feature called "The Daily Feed." The Daily Feed section is automatically updated throughout the day with new land listings as they come to market. LandBin.com visitors can subscribe to the entire Daily Feed, or narrow it down to Minnesota or Wisconsin, to receive automatic updates of new listings via email or rss feed.

"RealtyScape is a member of numerous multiple listing services throughout Minnesota and Wisconsin," said Cameron Henkel, co-founder and broker. "Our proprietary back-end allows us to deliver exactly what serious land buyers are looking for: listings - and a lot of them. The undeveloped land and acreage market in the Midwest has been underserved - this new offering complements our existing business and is an obvious fit as we continue to execute our strategy."

While the overall housing market outlook is uncertain, recreational property and land sales remain strong. LandBin.com is the only real estate website that offers potential buyers the ability to view every listing on the Minnesota & Wisconsin market. Land Bin makes it possible to research virtually every land, acreage, farm and lot for sale in a specific or broad area before making a purchase - creating an obvious advantage for land buyers in the Midwest.
