COOLCAT INC has been recognized for their out standing customer service they and excellence delivery of their electronic communications.

Renaissance-Printing located in Gainesville, FL; like most companies relies on its Email. COOLCAT INC has been recognized for their out standing customer service they and excellence delivery of their electronic communications. COOLCAT INC provides a host of cutting edge messaging, calendar, anti-spam and anti-virus measures; Coolcat's hosted Email solution "SmarterMail" provides a feature-rich experience that users of email collaboration tools like Microsoft Exchange™ are accustomed to. While other synchronization tools charge up to $70 per user, or thousands of dollars for a groupware server, that service comes bundled within our SmarterMail hosted mail solution at no extra charge.

If you use Microsoft Outlook to manage your communications, it can be a chore to use other web-based email system to keep track of tasks, contacts, calendars, and other information. While there are productivity gains, these gains can be offset by the duplication of effort. Using built-in features that are included with the SmarterMail hosted Email Service adds the ability to fully synchronize a user's contacts, tasks and calendar events with complete support for categories; with just the click of a button.

Coolcat's Smarter Mail system has an intuitive and sinkable web interface that synchronizes with Microsoft Outlook and Pocket 2005 clients. The synchronization tool is an easy-to-use, non-intrusive interface. Ideal for businesses and organizations looking to out source email to a hosted solution in a "hardened Data Center" It's like having your own dedicated Email team. Great for continuity with Mobile users; having all your information centrally located. You can have shared calendars, shared tasks, shared notes, and shared email folders! The Service allows for synchronization with mobile devises without docking, on supported devices. The server built in archiving feature even allows administrators to comply with the Sarbanes-Oxley Act.
