

Announcing Blog Revolution: Wordpress Theme Design by Clarity Multimedia

On Zen Problog today, we announced our new blog design service called Blog Revolution. This service is intended to bring simplicity to the blog design process and allow all bloggers to have a nice design for their blog.

March 1, 2008 - PRLog -- Clarity Multimedia has been doing website, print, and branding design for over two years in Chicago and now we want to release our blog design services to the world. By using the Internet as our primary tool to spread the word, we offer a simple solution to getting a great design for your Wordpress blog.

Our biggest strife with other Theme Design services is that there is a complicated quoting process that leaves a lot open to question. We have devised a solution to this by adding a set price for the theme design at $399. There are some options that cost more but they are listed on the site with clear prices.

“We set out to make the simplest Blog Theme Design Service we could. I think bloggers will appreciate that.” – Warren Greeley, Co-Owner of Clarity Multimedia and writer of Zen Problog
