

Homeschool: Say No To Vaccines!

Fed Advisory group calls for massive expansion of flu shots for all school-age children in the U.S.

Can this Federal-mandate reach children at home?

Can a federal Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP) for the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) make a recommendation to require all school-age children in the U.S. from ages 5 through 18 be given flu shots? CIDRAP >> ACIP recommends flu shots for all school children.

The answer to that question is a resounding No! No one can “force” you to do anything you don’t want to do. You must volunteer! These advisory committee or their reporting federal agency is without “any” lawful authority. Federal laws are contractual which is why they need your consent. Just say, NO!

This “recommendation” usually runs afoul at the local level. It is where a suggestion will remarkably change into an appearance of law at the hands of the agent with the needle who is usually a doctor in a white coat. He seems to embody the law many fall prey to which is why there is little or no resistance.

Although Dr. Martin Brotman told ABC news this recommendation was a good idea as long as children were not allergic and not too young to get the vaccine, he didn’t explain what would happen if given to a child too young or one that contracted an allergic reaction. It was more important for him to point out that children get the flu at a higher rate than other age groups but don’t tend to get as sick. When they get infected and stay home, he said, their parents stay home, it becomes very expensive. How expense became the issue here is troubling. [abc7news.com: All Kids Need Flu Shots, CDC Says 2/27/08 \(http://abclocal.go.com/kgo/story?section=news/health&id=5985063\)](http://abc7news.com: All Kids Need Flu Shots, CDC Says 2/27/08 (http://abclocal.go.com/kgo/story?section=news/health&id=5985063)

So if economics trumps the safety of our children, this is about the money! Now we can see why this flu vaccine push has turned into an agenda and without end. It’s like the endless “war on terror.” The Feds have an appetite for endless projects because in 2006 a similar influenza push was made. Dr. Tenpenny explains what is in each flu shot, “By the time the flu shot is ready for packaging, the solution contains the following: various egg proteins, viral contaminants from the eggs, Triton-X100 (detergent), formaldehyde (known carcinogen), resin, gelatin, tri-butylphosphate, polysorbate 80 (chemicals), and in some instances gentamicin (antibiotic). To preserve this chemical brew, in doses of up to 25 micrograms thimerosal (a mercury derivative) is still added to some of the shots. After detailing this vivid description of the manufacture of the influenza vaccine, the thought of injecting this into your body-or the body of your baby-should be repugnant.”

As recent as a few weeks ago, the government conceded the first vaccine-autism case. It was one of the first three cases chosen that alleged Thimerosal in childhood vaccines significantly contributed to a child developing autism. article re: link between vax and autism - American Pregnancy Association

“The facts are that the Vaccine Compensation Act has already compensated over 2,000 individuals who proved that they were harmed by vaccines, resulting in settlements of nearly two billion dollars.”

Of course, the government denies this to be admission of wrongdoing.

We must wake up and become resisters! There are enough studies published that document flu shots are ineffective. If, indeed, flu shots are risky, did it ever occur to you to wonder who it is that benefit from the side affects?
