CR Camo announces arrival of 5 photo-quality Camouflage Patterns

CR Camo, a Grand Rapids, Michigan company, announces the debut of their 5 exclusive Camouflage Patterns. Utilizing a special imprinting process and the durable material Tyvek, this will be a groundbreaking product for outdoorsmen and hunters. Produced with photo-quality images creates life-like patterns to camouflage hunters in ways never before possible.

Grand Rapids, MI April 10, 2008 – Camouflage patterns have always been made to appeal to the most broad audience possible. You were never able to have multiple patterns for easy transport and most importantly that was affordable. CR Camo has overcome these obstacles by creating exclusive Photo-Quality patterns that will fit every sportsman's budget and also hunting need.

When buying camouflage gear there was never an easy way to have a pattern that fit's most needs. TO purchase a pattern for every hunting location also came with a high price tag. CR Camo has designed a lightweight Tyvek Coat, Tyvek Pants and Blind covering that is affordable ($43.50 each for the pants coat and the blind covering) and able to transported easily. Now the hunter is able to pack several camouflage patterns that will fit most every need. The tyvek material also offers water resistance not achieved in other camouflage patterns at this affordable price.

Why Tyvek? If tyvek is good enough to wrap your house and protect it it is even better for your hunting excursions. Utilizing this quality product manufactured and patented by DuPont, we then printed with high quality photo-realistic pictures from the field. Now when you are hunting in the cattails, corn stalks or oak you will be practically invisible. Experience the most affordable, lightweight and transportable camouflage available today.

Camouflage patterns in Standing Corn, Cat Tail, Bark, Fall Grain and Fall Oak are available is M-3XL in Coats and one size fits all Pants. Blind Covering is also available in 42" x 110" dimensions.

www.crcamo.com is the location where purchase is available. We will help you be Outstanding in you field. Product research and development is ongoing for future patterns
