

Artists Carve Candle Holders from Stone

By PebbleArt Candle Holder Designs

Dated: Apr 14, 2008

PebbleArt Designs has released a new line of carved natural stone candle holders.

The artists and designers working at PebbleArt have just released a new line of carved stone candle holders. The line consists of 4 candle holders, which are carved directly into solid chunks of natural landscape rocks. The rocks themselves were imported from a variety of countries, and were shipped along with larger containers of building material.

PebbleArt is a company that is known for innovation in the home décor industry. For 5 years now they have consistently released products which are unlike anything else in the market. These new candle holders are part of the fifth product release this year alone, and represent the spearhead of a push to add up to 20 new designs to their candle holder catalog.

The holders are roughly 3" X 3" and are crafted from a variety of natural rocks. They are available in quartz white, Jerusalem red, and Antiqued white colors. Designed primarily by artist Minerva Stone, some design consultation was provided by June Lime Green and Joseph Lewis.

The candle holders are each adorned with a simple, yet powerful design, which flows with the natural color and shape of the stone. All of the patterns are applied by hand by US based artists. Since these pieces are natural, there is some variation between different candleholders of the same type.

The candle holders are being added to the companies showcase art gallery at PebbleZ, where they are being tested against public opinion. Depending on the popularity of the various models PebbleArt may decide to further distribution to other properties on their network, as well as open them up to wholesale distribution to retailers.

The candle holders can be seen on the companies candle gallery web page at <http://pebblez.com/candle.html>. If you would like more information, or for interviews with the artists, contact Joseph at info@PebbleZ.com
