International Best Selling Author Louise Rose Aveni Offers Ghostwriting Services

Sarasota, Fl- International Best Selling author Louise Rose Aveni (LUPO-Conversations with an E.T., HYBRID-The Conversation Continues, There's An Angel in My Closet and many others) is turning her talents towards helping other would-be authors.

Aveni has the experience and expertise to help novice writers put their thoughts and stories on paper. Not everyone has "a way with words" but fortunately,. Aveni does.

As Ghostwriter of several successful books for people around the country, Aveni welcomes each and every opportunity to assist in making literary dreams come true for aspiring novelists.

"Whether you've already begun writing something and just need assistance, or if you simply have a story to tell, let's talk! I am more than happy to provide quality, credible references from publishers and published authors that I've worked with to obtain your confidence and to ensure that I'm the right ghostwriter for your all important project." states Aveni.

But that's not the end of her talents and abilities, as an experienced Marketing Consultant and Publicist and former CEO of her own production/record label company, ScottCo Productions, Inc., Aveni knows how to get literary projects out there into the public eye and has been successful in obtaining those all important TV, radio and magazine interviews for her clients.
