Books for Cancer. In an effort to raise awareness and funds on behalf of the Entertainment Industry Foundation Women's Cancer Programs, A.W. Gryphon has joined forces with the renowned Charity Folks group. The rising author, and screenwriter buzzing on the film festival circuit, has placed one personalized copy of her first novel, Blood Moon, up on the auction block. In addition, she has plans for an encore event in October when a copy of Blood Moon, as well as the name of a character in her next book, will be auctioned off for EIF in honor of National Breast Cancer Month.

To place a bid on a personalized copy of Blood Moon at CharityFolks.com in support of EIF's Women's Cancer Programs, please click the link below. The auction closes at 6pm EST on April 30, 2008.
