Network marketing lead generation is the key to business success. Octopus Marketing Group, a team of independent marketers, offers an Internet based lead generation solution.

As most independent marketing consultants know, network marketing lead generation is the key to business success. Octopus Marketing Group, a team of independent marketers, offers an Internet based lead generation solution.

"I have been running my own marketing business on the web for over three years now," says Jesse Boland founder of Octopus Marketing Group, "we have put together the highest quality program for generating quality leads for any independent marketer."

Using a blend of social marketing, networking, and search engine optimized lead capture pages has helped many business owners begin building their own lead generation systems. "In our tests, when following the process letter by letter," says Boland, "people who have had no success online are seeing results in as little as 24 hours."
