

Lead Generation Program Announced For Network Marketing Professionals

By Octopus Marketing Group

Dated: Apr 29, 2008

Lead Generation has traditionally been one of the hardest things for new network marketing professionals to learn. Octopus Marketing Group announces a new lead generation program that will build your list quickly with a totally automated system.

Octopus Marketing Group announces the release of an automated lead generation program designed for network marketing professionals. Simplifying lead generation for new Internet marketers is a long process when done individually, but using this lead generation program, any new marketer can build their mailing list quickly and easily: <http://jboland.freeffas.com/>

"Developing a lead generation system that works has been a difficult process," says Jesse Boland, founder of Octopus Marketing Group, "everyone starts their online business with different skill levels, we needed a system that worked regardless of where an individual was at skillwise." That why the "Free Leads for Life" program works for everyone: <http://jboland.freeffas.com/>

Building a spam free mailing list has never been easier for people involved in MLM or network marketing. "The process is simple," says Boland, "we allow each member to generate as many as 10,000 leads every day." The lead generation program has helped thousands of people build their own e-mail marketing list: <http://jboland.freeffas.com/>
