Dated: May 28, 2008

Leading Web Design Company in India offers Website Designer on hire for Full Time, Part Time and Hourly basis. Dedicated web designer on hire is available for any duration and at an affordable rate.

Pixelsmedia (<http://www.pixelsmedia.net>), one of the leading web design companies in India, has today officially announced the launch of their website, <http://www.hirewebdesigners.com>. This website showcases the newly launched service by the company that offers web designers on hire basis.

The Hire Web Designer model will provide website designers on hire to offshore clients.

Compared to the practice of outsourcing web design projects to web design companies, this model will offer clients to hire an offshore in-house web designer who will be working dedicatedly as per instruction from the buyer. The buyer can communicate with the website designer, throughout the duration of hire, directly to nail down his requirements explicitly and get the job done as desired.

Hire a web designer model has been launched keeping in mind the ever increasing requirement of the offshore clients who prefer hiring web designers from India as it offers an array of benefits, the most important being cost benefit, as the buyer does not have to incur the infrastructural or HR expenses to set up his own business.

The hire web designer model further allows the flexibility of choosing the period of hiring web designers, depending upon the client's specific requirement, that is, offshore buyers can now hire a web designer for a month and again come back later to hire web designers as and when required.

Using the hire web designer model, experts from the diverse fields in web designing are available for hire. One can choose an expert website designer or a specialist flash animator depending upon individual requirement.

In addition to this, dedicated web designer hiring can also be done on full time or part time or hourly basis even.

Pixelsmedia has a robust team of web designers. They are competent with all latest web design tools and are highly creative and proficient in website designing.

Pixelsmedia have been serving satisfactory web design solutions to their clients world wide, and have successfully completed 6 years in this industry. Hiring web designers from Pixelsmedia, guarantees quality service at an affordable rate.
