Enjoy the Music.com® Announces $41,000 Contest Winners! Thousands In Prizes Given Away To Mailing List Members!

Internationally acclaimed and leading Internet specialty audio and music review Web site Enjoy the Music.com has announced the winners to their $41,000 Audiophile Equipment Contest! The site's third annual Equipment Contest was a resounding success, with an unprecedented number of entries from audio consumers located around the world taking part. In the past two years well over $100,000 in audio gear has been offered, and the conclusion of this year's contest now brings this total to well over $140,000 in prizes offered.

"It once again brings me joy in awarding so many great prizes to music lovers located within many parts of the world," said Steven R. Rochlin, editor of Enjoy the Music.com. "I would like to thank all the companies who have helped to support our equipment contests during the past three years. Together we are able to enhance the public's awareness concerning the benefits of high-end audio. Some contest winners have gone on to expand their prize by purchasing other goods from the same consumer electronics company! There is no doubt the Enjoy the Music.com Equipment Contests are a win-win situation for all involved and our readership can look forward to our upcoming 2008 contest."

Enjoy the Music.com offered over $41,000 in prizes within their third annual contest from many leading high-end consumer audio companies including 6SonsAudio, AAA Audio, Anthony Gallo Acoustics, Aperion Audio, Audience AV, Axiom Audio, Boston Audio, Cathedral Sound, Empirical Audio, Environmental Potentials, Furutech, Gemme Audio, HiFi-Tuning, Janton Corporation, MIT Cables, ModWright, Orb Audio Role Audio, The Music Cable and Ultra Systems.
