Dr. Gregg Friedman's SOAP Note, Powered by Documentor(TM), explicitly follows the Problem Oriented Medical Record format as well as PART format. It allows doctors to document value drivers for Colossus(R) and other claims evaluation software.

Gregg Friedman, DC, CICE, has announced the creation of the first electronic SOAP note program that explicitly follows the Problem Oriented Medical Record format as well as the P.A.R.T. format. The note is powered by Documentor™, a premier documentation program designed and manufactured by EON Systems, Inc., a twenty year veteran of the software industry.

Working like an electronic travel card, Dr. Friedman's SOAP Note Program enables the user to exceed the P.A.R.T. requirements for Medicare, as well as other carriers, in fewer than 10 seconds for most office visits. In addition, Dr. Friedman has designed the note to allow the doctor to document specific information that are value drivers for Colossus® and other claims evaluation software.

Dr. Friedman is a recognized authority on chiropractic documentation and teaches seminars to chiropractors all over the country. He warns doctors that just because their documentation is computer/type-written, it doesn't mean the documentation is good. In order to prove the need to begin care and justify the need to continue care, specific items must be documented, which are included in his note.

In addition, Dr. Friedman's SOAP Note, can be integrated with EON Systems' other product offerings, including a full practice management program and a document handling and storage program. A doctor can start with the SOAP note program and add on other features, moving toward a fully digital office.
