

Conscientious Partying in Tenerife

By Web Tenerife

Dated: Jun 16, 2008

Tenerife is playing host to the AguaViva Music and Art Festival - designed to draw attention to the environmental issues which effect us all today! We are "united by the oceans".

The South of Tenerife will be on the receiving end of a fun and moral boost – it will be playing host to the AquaViva Festival – a music and arts event designed to promote environmental awareness through films, concerts, forums, expos and workshops. All taking place during the first three exciting weeks of June!

The highlights are a series of concerts by international superstars, all of whom feel passionately about the target cause and have been more than enthusiastic to dedicate time and effort to ensure a spectacular show. Top names include Marc Anthony, El Canto del Loco, Jamiroquai and Chambao.

The festival, whose lemma is “united by the oceans”, really has chosen a fantastic Tenerife destination to play itself out in – Arona. This stunning resort is set high on the valley and is blessed with fine weather throughout the year – many festival goers are sure to be inspired to come back! Find out more about the island (and the festival!) here: <http://www.webtenerifeuk.co.uk>

In fact, the whole island of Tenerife itself will be very much under the spotlight for this exciting month – not only will the tourists begin arriving at the beaches, mountains and villages but the island will also be featured in various sporting press thanks to the Ladies Tenerife Open golf tournament – which carries prize money of over 400,000€!

It certainly is an exciting time to be in Tenerife so why not book your holiday in now? You'll find some great offers at <http://www.logitravel.com>
