

Finding a Seminar Locally Has Just Become Easier

By SeminarInformation.com

Dated: Jun 17, 2008

Dates and locations for hundreds of seminars from CareerTrack, Fred Pryor, Skillpath Seminars and Cross Country Education have just been added to SeminarInformation.com

SeminarInformation.com the largest database of seminars and conferences on the Internet has just updated it's database with seminar dates and locations for seminars through November 2008 making it easier to find just the right seminar close to home.

While the website lists hundreds of seminars in the larger US cities like New York, Chicago and San Francisco, it also lists seminars in most other cities across the nation. "With the cost of travel rising each day we are delighted to be able to provide an alternative when looking for training," states Mona Piontkowski, Executive VP of SeminarInformation.com. "Our database lists training programs given all over the country making it easier to find out what seminars are coming to your area or even city."

There are over 350 dates and locations for Excelling as A First-Time Manager or Supervisor (<http://www.seminarinformation.com/qqbfnk/excelling-as-a-first-time-manager-or-supervisor>) for example.

And over 570 dates for Fred Pryor's Advanced Excel (<http://www.seminarinformation.com/qqbfsft/advanced-excel>) to name just two of the thousands of seminars listed.

Users of the SeminarInformation.com website can find the seminar, read the complete outline of the course, select a date and location and enroll online or by phone toll free at 877-SEM-INFO.
