Eco-Tool Kits for a Greener Life

How do you know if a product is safe and free of harmful chemicals? You know because you made it yourself. Eco-Me natural cleaning kits help you create safe and natural products right from your kitchen. Create your own natural, chemical-free, non-toxic cleaning products, body care products, baby care and pet care with Eco-Me's green eco-friendly tool kits.

Easy to follow instructions show you how to mix ingredients right from your kitchen along with Eco-Me Kit's re-usable/recyclable containers with easy to fill recipes and proprietary blend of pure plant essential oils.

On July 26th catch Eco-Me's founder Robin Kay Levine and her husband Jeremy Levine, a green architect, on the Discovery Channel Planet Green's new show Renovation Nation. Host Steve Thomas takes a tour of their Eagle Rock, California house that's eco inside and out.

Jeremy took an old run down Spanish style bungalow and transformed it into a modern eco-friendly gem that runs on solar power, reclaimed water and has a no-nonsense cooling system that looks more like a high end designer's dream with a light eco-footprint.

Meet our dogs and learn how you can make your own dog compost system, bake natural doggies treats with Eco-Me's natural recipes and clean your entire house with three simple ingredients: vinegar, baking soda and olive oil.

Join us as we open our doors to Steve Thomas and the folks at Renovation Nation Thursday, July 26th on Planet Green. Find Planet Green on your local network by visiting: www.planetgreen.channelfinder.net
