A new travel insurance web site has been launched by TFG Global Insurance Solutions Ltd. called Travel Insurance Agent.com. The new web site will offer travel insurance plans to people around the world. The web address is:

<http://www.travelinsuranceagent.com>

The travel insurance web site offers:

1. Travel medical and evacuation insurance
2. Trip cancellation and interruption insurance
3. Group travel insurance
4. International health insurance

All the travel insurance plans can be purchased by customers around the world by simply clicking on the travel insurance product of their choice. Web users will then be connected to our online travel insurance suppliers where they will be able to get an insurance quote and even purchase the travel insurance plan online. After they pay for their plan, the customer will receive an policy number and fulfilment kit online via the web page and email.

Travel Insurance Agent.com also provides useful articles on travel insurance and related issues. David Tompkins, President of TFG Global Insurance Solutions Ltd., the owner of this and other travel and expatriate insurance web sites stated that "this new travel insurance portal offers a user friendly web platform for travelers in need of travel insurance protection from reputable and secure travel insurance suppliers at a very competitive price point."

Travel Insurance Agent.com will be a leader in providing quick and seamless travel insurance plans for customers around the world, including those living in areas where obtaining high quality travel insurance protection is difficult.

Mr. David Tompkins further remarked that "if you are traveling abroad this summer, make sure that you obtain adequate travel medical insurance to cover you should you get sick or injured while away from home. Most domestic health plans will not cover your emergency medical or evacuation expenses while you are outside your country of citizenship. A medical emergency abroad can lead to financial ruin if you are not covered by a high quality travel insurance plan that Travel Insurance Agent.com can provide. More and more travel customers are purchasing their travel products themselves online without a travel agent. Our new web site is a great source for those people in need of a customized travel insurance solution."

Travel Insurance Agent.com will add new travel insurance plans to its stable of product offerings in the future and will be an important source of travel insurance for travvel customers near and far.
