

Travel insurance is vital if attending Beijing Olympics

By David Tompkins

Dated: Jul 13, 2008

Travel Insurance China.com offers travel insurance to people visiting China in August for the Beijing Olympics. Having adequate travel insurance for the 2008 Olympics is vital.

With the Beijing Olympics set for August 8th, 2008, TFG Global Insurance Solutions Ltd.'s web site Travel Insurance China.com is set for increased sales of travel medical insurance to people traveling to China for the Olympics this year. David Tompkins, President of TFG Global Insurance Solutions Ltd., the owner of www.travelinsurancechina.com, stated that "we offer a host of travel insurance plans for travel to China and the Olympics this year. We offer travel medical and evacuation plans to cover emergency medical expenses while traveling outside your country of citizenship that are vital if you are traveling to China for the Olympics."

Getting sick or injured while visiting China can be very expensive and the costs can cripple a person's finances. Having adequate insurance to cover these unexpected costs can provide peace of mind to people attending this year's Olympic Games.

Travel Insurance China.com also offers trip cancellation insurance plans which provide trip cancellation to cover your trip costs should you not be able to travel to the Olympics because of covered reasons such as getting sick or injured. The vacation insurance plans also offer trip cancellation, baggage loss and trip delay protection and medical and evacuation coverage as well.

Travel Insurance China is uniquely positioned to provide quality travel insurance plans for citizen of China and visitors to China from around the world. David Tompkins remarked that "travel insurance is still a foreign concept for citizens of China, but with increased travel from an emerging middle and upper class, our web site will be perfectly positioned to offer high quality travel insurance plans from highly secure insurance suppliers that TFG Global is affiliated with."
