A new travel insurance web site called Travel Insurance USA.com has been launched and hopes to be a primary travel insurance portal for travelers to and from America and citizens around the world. Clients can get insurance quotes and purchase online.

The Travel Insurance USA web site is located at:

<http://www.travelinsuranceusa.com>

The web site was previously owned by another business, but was not being marketed or utilized. TFG Global Insurance Solutions Ltd. recently purchased the web domain and the site has been in web development phase for the last few weeks. A new logo and crisp, professional and easy to use format has been implemented.

David Tompkins noted today that "if you are traveling abroad this summer, then getting travel insurance is an absolute necessity. Unfortunately, with the current economic downturn, some vacationers are not purchasing travel insurance and leaving their holiday to chance. A serious illness or injury while abroad can lead to hundreds in thousands of dollars in medical bills which can wipe out a person's savings. Also, the financial insecurity of some airlines means that getting trip cancellation and interruption coverage that Travel Insurance USA.com offers is a must."

David Tompkins, President of the international insurance brokerage firm TFG Global Insurance Solutions Ltd., owns several different travel insurance, expert insurance and domestic insurance web sites that service customers around the world. TFG Global has become a leader in developing online insurance portals where customers can gain valuable information and quotes for insurance plans from well respected and secure national and international insurance providers and companies.

David Tompkins stated that "Travel Insurance USA.com is well positioned to become a key resource for North Americans in search of travel insurance online along with citizens around the world in need of travel insurance plans which can cover them traveling to the United States and even around the world outside of their country of citizenship. Our travel insurance plans are provided up by several different insurance suppliers backed up by very secure and respected underwriting insurance companies based in the United States and Europe.

The site also offers international health insurance plans from several well respected and secure insurance suppliers. The global medical insurance plans are great for expatriates living overseas plus local nationals outside of the United States and Canada who want an international health plan that allows them to seek first class medical care anywhere in the world.

The travel insurance web site offers the following products:

- travel medical insurance with medical evacuation coverage

- trip cancellation & interruption insurance plans with some baggage, medical and evacuation coverage
- group travel insurance
- international health insurance for expatriates
- personal accident travel insurance
- multi-trip travel insurance

The web site will offer travel insurance articles and new travel insurance products will be added in the near future. Travel Insurance USA.com aims to be a top source for travel insurance plans for Americans and citizens around the world.
