Dated: Jul 22, 2008

Travis T-Bone Turner, Michael Waddell, And Nick Mundt will appear together for their first public appearance for Bone Collector, the new hunting show from the creators of Realtree RoadTrips airing on the Outdoor Channel in January 2009.

Travis "T-Bone" Turner, the popular Realtree Pro-staff hunter and celebrity archery expert, announced today that he will join fellow Bone Collector TV co-hosts Michael Waddell and Nick Mundt for an appearance at the Buckmasters Expo 2008 at the Montgomery Convention Center in Montgomery, AL on August 15 - 17.

The Buckmasters Expo will be the first public appearance that Turner, Waddell, and Mundt will make together for Bone Collector, the new Surf & Turf Entertainment produced reality hunting show from the creators of Realtree Roadtrips Steve Finch and Marc Womack. Bone Collector is scheduled to make its highly-anticipated debut on the Outdoor Channel in January of 2009.

The Buckmasters appearance is one of many scheduled events that Turner is attending in 2008. Already a regular personality in several very successful outdoors productions including Realtree's Monster Bucks DVD series, Turner has also made several appearances on many successful TV shows such as Gettin' Close with Lee & Tiffany and Realtree Monster Bucks TV- both airing on the Outdoor Channel.

"I'm really looking forward to having the opportunity to meet all the fans at the Buckmasters Expo in August." said Turner, "It's also very exciting that I'm appearing there with the rest of the Bone Collector team- Michael (Waddell) and Nick (Mundt)."

Take advantage of this opportunity to meet the Bone Collector co-hosts at the Buckmasters Expo, a unique three-day event that provides consumers with hundreds of exhibitor booths and displays of various hunting products; the Buckmasters Top Bow Indoor world championship archery tournament; the Young Bucks Outdoors kids activity center; a hunter safety class; antler scoring; raffles; and a free members-only concert.
