

Fans meet X-Files creator

By ITN- news

Dated: Jul 30, 2008

Fans of the popular X-Files franchise were given the chance to grill creator Chris Carter in London

Fans of the popular X-Files franchise were given the chance to grill creator Chris Carter in London.

(Advertisement)

Some of the most hardcore fans even travelled all the way from Germany for the unique meet-and-greet at the HMV store on Oxford Street.

Carter, who wrote and directed the latest film, X-Files: I Want to Believe, answered questions about Mulder and Scully, and what they've been up to since the series ended in 2002.

The first X-Files movie was released in 1998, but German fan Marina revealed how she managed to stay in touch with the show.

She said: "We had discussions in the 'forum' on the internet, on YouTube and I watched all nine seasons one after the other."

"And we never gave up on a second movie," added friend Susanne.

X-Files: I Want to Believe opens in the UK on August 1.

<http://www.buystuffs.co.uk>

###

www.BuyStuffs.co.uk is a successful ONLINE SHOPPING CENTER, which has wide range of shopping stuffs, including men/women's clothings, shoes, books, loans, credit cards and many more. You will love it if you visit my site. You are all welcome..

Tags	x-files, DVD, Movies, serials
Email	Click to contact author
City/Town	salisbury
State/Province	Wiltshire
Country	United Kingdom
Link	http://prlog.org/10096217

Scan this QR Code with your SmartPhone to-

- * Read this news online
- * Contact author
- * Bookmark or share online