

Fashion Model Agency Opens its Doors to New Models

Affinity Models & Talent Agency, known for its high selectivity, is opening its doors to new fashion models in Los Angeles.

Aug. 24, 2008 - PRLog -- Affinity Models & Talent Agency is proud to announce that it is opening its doors to new faces in the fashion model category. This model and talent agency based in Los Angeles, provides fashion models for fashion shows, film, television and print and is highly selective in its choices for its High Fashion Division. Runway models must be at least 5'9 for females and 6' foot for males. Models must be extremely fit, poised and of course, stunning. Experience on the catwalk is a plus but not mandatory.

Affinity Model Agency only looks at High Fashion Models a few times a year so this is a great opportunity to be seen and selected. High fashion models may have the opportunity to work around the world including Tokyo, Singapore, Hong Kong, Paris and London.
