Brian Cameron, VP of Business Development, of Paradigm Partners to Speak at ABMA Manufacturers Conference

Houston, TX - Paradigm Partners has been invited to speak at The American Boiler Manufacturers Association (ABMA) Manufacturers Conference on Monday, September 22, 2008 in Cleveland, OH.

Mr. Brian Cameron, VP of Business Development with Paradigm Partners, will be discussing the subject "Federal Research & Development Tax Credits -- Why They Are Better Than Appropriated Funding At Moving Your Company into an Innovative Future and Other Benefits to Your Organization."

ABMA's annual Manufacturers Conference and Trade Fair is designed to bring together manufacturing plant, office and others concerned with the design, fabrication, sales and distribution of ABMA products and services to network, discuss trends and developments, and problem solve with others in the industry and with outside experts. The key goal of the ABMA Manufacturers Conference and Trade Fair is to educate and inform in a relaxed, noncompetitive setting. When possible, plant tours highlight manufacturing techniques and advances.

The conference is taking place from September 22-24, 2008 at the Hyatt Regency @ The Arcade in Cleveland, OH.
