Dated: Sep 08, 2008

Company launches Flavored Flax Seeds. New, one of a kind product with a patent pending roasting and flavoring method. Gourmet Food Topper and Snack. Turn any food into a Super Food.

Rowena Banks and Tami Smith know about American food preferences. Mahshid Mizradeh, with her Persian roots, is wise in the ways of natural healing and nourishing foods.

Their partnership (as well as their secret recipe) has created a tasty, healthful snack that's becoming more popular every day in California and across the U.S. The company is called Flax Your Body, and the product they created is Flax SuperSnax. It is the first product of it's kind consisting of roasted and flavored flax seed.

Sprinkle Flax SuperSnax generously on salad, pasta, pizza, eggs, veggies or a baked potato – and enjoy a new taste sensation. It's also doubles as a nutritious, delicious snack. All the goodness of flax in four sweet-and-savory flavors!

“Each of us adds an important perspective and makes a personal contribution,” says Director of Sales and Marketing, Tami Smith. “Our varied backgrounds and areas of expertise have become the basis for friendship, innovation – and an impressive success story.”

You can buy Flax SuperSnax in stores throughout northern California and online at www.flaxsupersnax.com

About Flax Your Body: <http://www.flaxsupersnax.com>

Inventors of a process to roast and flavor flax seeds to be used as a gourmet food topper or as a snack. Currently selling four flavors: Premium Garlic, Mediterranean, Chocolate and Sweet Cinnamon. We offer a delicious alternative to raw milled flax seed. Most people add raw flax to cereal in the morning and that isn't very appealing day after day. We're convinced people really aren't eating enough flax to reap the benefits. And because our flavored, roasted flax is amazing on most any food, everyone, including kids, can get the Omega 3s, fiber and many other benefits of flax.

Try them on something at every meal! They are great on pasta, pizza, salads, eggs, rice, bagels and cream cheese, cereal, oatmeal and more (the Chocolate flax is great on yogurt and ice cream!) Suddenly, your meals have high fiber and are loaded with the benefits of flax.

And it's a great snack right from the jar! It's flax for everyone!
