Dr Markou is a very well respected physician among his patients and colleagues. He is dedicated and gives his patients attentiveness and compassion.

Dr Markou returning from the 16th International Society of Hair Restoration Surgery quotes, " more and more physicians are offering low level laser surgery in addition to traditional medical and surgical treatments to battle male pattern and female pattern baldness. Dr Markou was the first to publish his research and findings in a major medical dermatology journal in 2003 that lead to Canada approving low level laser therapy for the treatment of hair loss followed by the FDA in U.S. in early 2007.
