SeminarInformation.com has just updated it's database of seminars and conferences with thousands of new dates and locations for seminars from Skillpath, American Trainco, CareerTrack, Cross Country Education and Fred Pryor to name a few.

Seminar Information Service, the creators of www.SeminarInformation.com (<http://www.seminarinformation.com/>), who have been providing the most comprehensive database of seminars since 1981, has just updated it's website with thousands of new seminar dates and locations.

Over 600 seminar sponsoring organizations are represented on the website and visitors can search for a seminar by topic, title, keyword, date, location or seminar sponsor. Complete outlines for all the seminars are presented so that you can find just the right seminar to meet your needs, read the complete outline of the course and then sign up right on the website or toll free at 877-736-4636.

Seminar experts are available to assist with registrations, answer any questions or make recommendations. Larger groups of attendees can be accommodated with onsite presentations at a location of your choice. Call 877-SEM-INFO for details.
