Lee, NH – S&J Transportation Services (www.SJTrans.com) operates a unique trucking company in southern New Hampshire. Their fleet includes over 60 trucks and over 150 dry vans, all of which are company owned and are driven by company drivers. S&J Transportation is proud to be a family owned and operated business, servicing customers in the New England area for over twenty years.

While most companies are being extremely conservative in these difficult economic times S&J Transportation is taking on these challenges by making additions to their trucking lanes and services by transporting ocean containers to and from the ports of New York and New Jersey.

“Our decision to expand our territory was mostly based our customers’ demand. We want to provide our customers with solutions to their transportation problems. They made the requests and S&J Transportation made it happen. We enjoy the challenge to excel and our team takes pride in that.” Jim Daley, III, Vice President

S&J Transportation currently has a group of ten drivers that have successfully gone through the security measures requested by the New York and New Jersey Port Authorities. These drivers will now transport ocean freight between all points in New England and the New York and New Jersey piers.

S&J Transportation also teamed up with NewRoads Distribution, LLC. (www.NewRoadsWhse.com) NewRoads Distribution is a public and commercial warehouse located in Lee, NH as well. This partnership adds flexibility, and a new array of services for both parties. Please call (800) 776-3718 for more information regarding transportation or warehouse services.
