The Two Keys to Success in Online Marketing are Mindset and Marketing Training. I'm please to Announce that Abunza has currently defined itself as an Online Marketing University.

Abunza - One of the Premier Bilingual Opportunities on the Internet, is transitioning into an online Internet Marketing School. It appears that it would be the most natural step in its evolution and here's why.

All the Products in the Abunza Digital Library, are all centered around different Marketing Strategies, including how to Profit from Blogging, how to set up adsense for Profit, Email Follow up, how to create capture pages, just to name a few.

The Weekly Trainings always featured different trainers covering Marketing Topics such as google adwords and marketing with video. And then came the "marriage" between World Summit, Tom Hua and Abunza, and the Addition of the Elite Library, which in itself, is worth well more than the $2497.00 in valuable training and information.

Not to mention, the Co-Founder, Sebastian Saldarriaga, a Good Friend of mine, is a major advocate for Personal Development, as a matter of fact, it was through a $2000 Personal Development Seminar, Created by Bob Proctor, made Famous by the Movie "The Secret", Sebastian and I were business partners from back then.

I believe that Abunza needed it's first year to really define what it would be to the market, and through development and constant testing, they will become one of the premier Direct Sales company offering Online Internet Marketing and Personal Development Training while providing an extremely generous compensation for it's Distributors.
