The new book "Income Without a Job" is filled with step-by-step tips for creating income beyond a typical 8 to 5 job. Covering both debt reduction and income expansion, this book is filled with ideas that help the average person make a better life.

The new book "Income Without a Job" offers practical tips to help people see opportunities that others miss, simply because they haven't learned how to use their own creativity and awareness to look beyond the obvious. There are great ideas just waiting to be discovered all around us. The key is to know how to look for them and what to do with them next.

With the economy in turmoil, the future unknown and many people not sure where to turn, we provide practical ways for the average person to create a brighter future for themselves and their family. In addition to practical tips, we offer stories of how famous people found their way out of their troubles to change the world in a positive way while making money for themselves in the process.

An excerpt, From the Introduction:

Dear Reader: When you are finished reading this book — probably even before you finish it — you will begin to see opportunities all around you, things that so many people miss because they are not looking for them. Your mind will begin to put together creative new ways of making money, finding resources, filling needs and making the world a little better. And, you will know a little bit more about yourself, about what is important to you and how to use your own inherent gifts, talents and abilities in new ways. ...

... Never underestimate your own power to create or re-create your future. Don't let your own dreams die inside you.

There are diamonds just waiting to be found, products waiting to be invented, services waiting to be provided. In today's uncertain times, in the midst of what seems to be a hopeless future, lie the seeds for our greatest opportunities — opportunities to do things better, faster, smarter, more efficiently, more effectively, more satisfying, more inspiring.

We need to find better ways to make a new type of fuel for our society and our lifestyle. There are huge opportunities there.

We need to find better ways to use the resources we have already. There are huge opportunities there.

We need to find better ways to build homes that people can afford. There are huge opportunities there.

We need to find better ways to recycle unwanted products or to reuse them in better ways. There are huge opportunities there.

We need to find better ways to provide for the growing population of people who are retired and will be retiring in the next 10-20 years. There are huge opportunities there.

We need to provide better ways for people who are living longer than ever, working longer than ever and smarter than at any time in history. There are huge opportunities there.

We need to create better ways of managing our businesses so that real success for everyone involved is more important than greed. There are huge opportunities there.

Look around you every day and see what ideas YOU can uncover to do things better, faster, cheaper, more efficiently, more effectively. There are huge opportunities there.

Authors Michael Anthony and Barbara Taylor are both dedicated to the communication of ideas that make the world a better place by helping to improve the lives of the people they touch and work with every day.

About the Authors:

Michael Anthony is well known for his Organizational Development work, his unique corporate training techniques and inspiring public speaking.

Michael has had a wide variety of full and part time jobs and careers, which included serving as an Army soldier in Vietnam, to law enforcement officer, to Radio Host in Los Angeles to Advertising Agency Executive then Voice-Over recording artist to Seminar Leader, Author, Business Coach and Organizational Development Consultant. Many of these career experiences he held simultaneously.

After training employees and managers for some of the nation's top companies, Michael teamed up with Barbara Taylor in 1984. Together, they continued the work that each had been passionate about alone.

Barbara Taylor was appointed by the State of California to create the first privately funded small business development center in California, designed to help people who wanted to start or manage a small business enterprise. She requested and received Michael Anthony's assistance.

Together, they went on to work with more than 1,000 small businesses. Barbara's extensive background in the computer services and consulting industries combined with Michael's extensive organizational psychology and training background gave them a strong foundation to bring their wisdom to people who seek to grow and develop more of who they are — whatever their occupation.

Barbara Taylor's company, Rainbows & Miracles etc, focuses on Creativity and Inspiration at Work, inspiring people to find creative solutions to every-day challenges in the workplace. One of the ways she does this is through her Institute for Management Excellence (www.itstime.com) website – It's Time for New Ways of Doing Business.
