When it comes to the world of marketing, you can now target a specific area or group of individuals and businesses. FEXMAX offers you a whole new level of the capabilities you can benefit from, in utilizing wireless marketing.

Bluetooth advertising software-Fexmax allows you the advantage of being able to advertise your products, organization, and services, while promoting your business to a predetermined target demographic that you want to advertise to. Being permission based, this type of marketing reaches only those individuals and CEO's of other companies that WANT to hear from you. You no longer have to worry that the messages that you want to get across to key areas, will be received as SPAM. Spammless advertising allows you the freedom of having messages sent to prospective clients, based on permission. Having the ability to send free SMS or MMS messages to specific areas of mobile and handheld devices will change the way in which the world of multimedia messaging has been viewed in the past. For your convenience, it also offers multilanguage menus and multilanguage messages which is also unque feature in its field (including non standart characters)

Notably, there are more and more people every single day, who are anxiously taking advantage of the benefits in technology that Bluetooth has now made available to them. Notebooks, mobile phones, handheld devices, and ipod's are all equipped with the capabilities of receiving Bluetooth multimedia marketing images, videos, and messages. Imagine how many thousands of prospective clients and customers you could reach instantly through mobile imaging and multimedia advertising. This software could undoubtedly change the way advertising is viewed.

FEXMAX - Bluetooth advertising software is very easy to use, and simple to install, yet offers professional use of the software. Your PC simply need to be equipped with an external or internal Bluetooth dongle. Most of these Bluetooth Dongles reaching ranges of up to 300 m, you will be able to target an area as large as 1800 sqm. You can purchase the dongles in most all techno shops. This outstanding software works on Win OS PC and notebooks.

'You will now have the ability in sending text messages, customize your own ads, send key pictures, and specific multimedia messaging through this new way of multimedia marketing that will soon revolutionize how marketing is viewed among individuals, business owners and marketing programmers of today', as stated by the spokesperson of the company's management team. You will benefit from having capabilities with advertisements like Movie, media files, txt, Vcard, image, and pictures. This easy but professional program is the most cost effective solution to advertising that is available on the market today.

The very same advertisement campaigns that literally cost companies thousands of dollars, will now be absolutely free, and offering the capabilities of the very same quality marketing strategies.

When you consider the large number of businesses you can reach, such as banks, restaurants, hotels, shopping malls, travel agencies, nightclubs, cares, and so much more, the one time small fee you are required to pay, will more than pay for itself in a very short amount of time. You will also receive a full year of free support and free updates.

The company believes that FEMAX will totally and completely change the strategies in which our current advertising, and multimedia market is viewed.

Many top names and highly respected companies are already enjoying the benefits to be had in using FEMAX. There are numerous small family owned businesses and large corporations that are expected to be switching soon to the advantages found in Bluetooth Marketing.
