Ljubljana, Slovenia, -- Izzicarhire.com is now offering its renowned car hiring services to visitors of Croatia. Car rentals in Croatia are now available online at Izzicarhire.com for low, affordable prices our customers throughout Europe desire.

Zagreb, the capital of Croatia, is located on the Sava River, 170 kilometers from the coast connected with modern highways. It is 122 meters above sea level. Its climate is continental, with an average summer temperature of 20o Celsius and a winter average of 1o Celsius. Zagreb has about 20 swimming facilities, 21 museums, 30 galleries and several art collections. The wealth of permanent exhibitions of art and culture from Croatia and abroad are enriched by topical exhibitions and are one reason more to visit this city. What definitely makes Zagreb different from other European capitals is its charm and spontaneity. All of the municipal and arts attractions and institutions are located in the city centre and can all be reached on foot.

Forever young city with the population of about 200,000 that give it its warm Mediterranean temper, is Split. It exists for 1700 years. Ever since the life of the city protected by the UNESCO and entered into the register of the World Cultural Heritage, it has been writing the history of this unique capital of Dalmatia. The city of Split is situated in the warmest region of the northern Mediterranean coast in the centre of the Adriatic eastern coast. Its mild climate, with 2700 sunny hours per year, makes it an oasis where one can enjoy the sun even in wintertime.

In the deep south of the Croatian coastline is the Dubrovnik region whose centre, the city of Dubrovnik, in Croatia and across the world bears the title of the Pearl of the Adriatic. The harmony of the centuries-old buildings and the walls girdling the city are like a fairy tale apparition created for enjoyment.

Why visit Croatia? Because anyone who does not is poorer for a visit to a part of heaven on earth. It is a unique destination, and with Izzicarhire.com, no matter what visitors want to see, it's only a click of the mouse away.
