The guy's from the Horse Racing In Australia website have just launched their new free sports betting tips section onto the web. With such a successful free tips following over this years baseball season, the guy's have decided to give their websites users what they keep asking for and that is more free sports betting tips and so they have.

Mike Keenan, Horse Racing In Australia's owner says, 'We have built-up such a large network of expert contacts online, who are a mixture of both professional sports handicappers & US racing handicappers and they will be sending through to us their selections, which will cover a very wide variety of different sporting events. MLB baseball for next season for which I cannot wait, NBA basketball, NHL football, NHL hockey, soccer, tennis and the list just goes on and it will be extensive and most of all straight to-the-point. And the best part is our free sports betting tips will be always 100% free everyday and every sports tip given will be expertly selected.'

So just when you thought the guy's could not possibly fit any more information onto their website, they just go and do it again and as usual it is all for the benefit of their websites users.
