

Social Bookmarking Service Now Only $25.00

Social bookmarking involves linking sites within the various forums, blogs and message boards on social networking websites, blog sites and content centric sites like Digg.

Nov. 12, 2008 - PRLog -- Tampa, Florida, USA -- DNA Vertical, Inc. can now manually socially bookmark your websites, press releases, blogs, blog posts, and more to approximately 100 social bookmarking sites for only $25.00 US.

Founded in 2004, DNA Vertical believes in using social bookmarking submission as a powerful search engine marketing tool and most SEO experts agree.

Social bookmarking involves linking sites within the various forums, blogs and message boards on social networking websites, blog sites and content centric sites like Digg. Considered a better alternative to submitting a website on blogs, manual social bookmarking is a simple, convenient and hassle-free way of making sure that your site is noticed and marketed in the right circle.

Users can place orders by navigating online to <http://www.dnavertical.com/socialbookmarkingservice...> and entering a URL for social bookmark submission along with up to three keywords. DNA Vertical ensures that every site is first indexed for the intended target audience, so only sites with a suitable page rank and pedigree are selected. All links are strictly one-way and permanent. Their service is tuned in to the ever-changing world of search engine optimization. With the implementation of context-sensitive search algorithms and with the advent of more personalized search results for users, submission of content to a social bookmarking site is a no longer a matter of trial and error.

"The DNA Vertical Social Bookmarking Service is a inexpensive and powerful service which has served many customers with great success" - David Almodovar, CEO
