

The Hair Transplant Network Recommends Dr. Tom Rosanelli of San Francisco, CA

By The Hair Transplant Network

Dated: Nov 19, 2008

Dr. Tom Rosanelli performed high quality follicular unit hair transplantation exclusively in San Francisco, CA with consistent results. We are excited to present Dr. Rosanelli as our new recommended surgeon on the Hair Transplant Network.

The experience and skill of hair transplant surgeons vary, as do their results. That's why only surgeons with a proven record of producing quality results are recommended on the Hair Transplant Network.

Recently, we invited our hair loss forum community to offer their input on the potential recommendation of Dr. Tom Rosanelli of San Francisco, CA. How we recommend hair transplant surgeons is well documented on our patient driven hair loss forum.

Dr. Rosanelli has been performing exclusive hair transplant surgery for over 20 years and has the staff and experience to perform regular sessions up to 3000 follicular unit grafts when appropriate for the patient. Our Publisher Pat Hennessey has observed Dr. Rosanelli in live surgery and was very impressed with his dedication to high quality follicular unit hair transplantation and how he and his dedicated staff work harmoniously together. To see the highlights of Pat's visit, visit the "Visits to Leading Hair Transplant Clinics" section of our hair loss forum.

After extensive research and seeking input from his patients and physician peers, we are pleased to welcome Dr. Rosanelli as our new recommended hair restoration surgeon. Be sure to congratulate and welcome him to our community by visiting the "Potential Recommendation of Dr. Rosanelli of San Francisco, CA" thread on our forum.

If you are considering hair transplant surgery, especially those local to San Francisco, we encourage you to consult with Dr. Rosanelli. Information about him including how to contact him can be found on his profile on the Hair Transplant Network.

Onwards and Upwards,
