Mexicoetal.com now carries food items as well as utensils and other "hard to get" Mexican products.

http://mexicoetal.com carries an ever growing variety Mexican products for the lowest prices.

When asked about the low prices Frank Barcenas, store owner, said this, "Our prices are so low because we have practically no overhead, nor add transportation fees, nor import fees to our products. In most cases we ship directly from the distributor's warehouse. So, you save when the products don't have to be transported, imported, handled, warehoused, and marked-up. On top of that they still have to ship it to you, and guess who pays for all of that. The consumer does!"

http://Mexicoetal.com is modernizing the food export business in Mexico. They ship directly from Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico on a daily basis.
