Before you do anything else, you should congratulate yourself for accomplishing one of the most important milestones in your life. Graduating from college, high school, medical school, even kindergarten is a big deal today and should be celebrated with the people you care about the most. When you send out those good news mailings, here are some pointers on the <http://www.graduationcardsshop.com/wording.php> Graduation Announcements Wording.

Invitations vs. Graduation Announcements

First, you need to know what type of mailing you need to send.

<http://www.cardsshoppe.com/graduation-announcements/> Graduation invitations are appropriate when you want your friends and family members to attend either the graduation ceremony itself or a graduating party afterward or both. Unfortunately, we can't always invite everyone we would like to share the day with. That doesn't mean they have to be left in the dark. Actually, you can send them an announcement instead. The announcement shares the good news but does not indicate that they should attend any type of event.

Normally, you would use the announcements when you only have a limited number of tickets for the ceremony or when you have out-of-town friends or family members you know will not be able to attend.

If you're planning how to word the invitations, the choice depends on what you are inviting the guests to attend. If you want them to come to your graduation ceremony and to attend a small party at home afterward, the message below would be a good choice:

Miss Arianna Masters
Invites You to Attend Her Graduation Ceremony

May 18th at 3 o'clock
Liberal Arts Hall
Clark College

A reception will follow at her parents' home immediately after

Besides the wording, you should also think about printing maps to the event and to the home that can be added to the invitations to make things more convenient for guests. Having an RSVP number would also be a smart idea. Now if tickets are going to be required for the ceremony, you'll also need to decide how to distribute them to guests. If you have an unlimited number available, you can just include them in the invitations. Otherwise, consider having everyone meet at a specific location so you can hand out the tickets prior to the ceremony. For the rest of the <http://www.graduationcardsshop.com> Graduation Announcements wording, use basic party wording ideas.

Graduation Words for Announcements

The announcement needs to provide more information about the actual accomplishment. Below is an example.

Miss Arianna Masters
Announces the Successful Completion of her

Bachelor of Arts in Elementary Education

from Clark College
on May 18, 2008

Besides the content listed in the example above, you might also want to put in some additional details, such as that you graduated with honors, your GPA, your clubs or organizations, and even your future plans. Anything you want to share with your family and friends can be added into the <http://www.cardsshoppe.com/graduation-announcements/gradu...> graduation wording with these announcements. However, do keep in mind that no mention of gifts would be appropriate with either type of stationery.
