As a licensed rigging and foundation contractor, Lee Industrial Contracting has a staff of experienced electricians, riggers, and foundation experts who are very knowledgeable in their field. Lee Contracting specializes in concrete foundations and site work. We can transport your wind turbines and build the foundations from the ground up. In today's society, wind power is growing and so is the "Go Green" attitude. With our headquarters in Michigan, and branches in Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, and Kentucky, Lee Contracting is capable of serving the midwest as well as the southern states with no problem. Lee Industrial Contracting is on board to help make your wind turbine foundation and installation process a success.

Not only do we employ experienced riggers, but Lee Industrial Contracting specializes in providing our customers with a turnkey solution for any project they have. If you have a larger project that you are considering sub-contracting out, consider hiring Lee Industrial Contracting as your general contractor to take on the entire project.
